

PATROL MODULE

GIVE AN IMMEDIATE RESPONSE

Free up emergency lines by keeping callers in the loop.

Your reporting parties are your customers too. Some of them may be calling you on their worst day, while others may be calling as a good samaritan. The Patrol Module automatically sends a templated text message to reporting parties once a CAD event is generated in your CAD, ensuring that your reporting party has the information they need.

HOW THIS HELPS

FOR CITIZENS

Whether you're a victim, witness, or passerby, calling 911 can be an extremely stressful endeavor. You spend your time on the call giving dispatch the information they need while gaining very little information for yourself. With this module, agencies automatically text you the information you may require for future reference, while educating you on matters specific to the reason you called.

FOR OFFICERS

When a reporting party call your dispatch, your call-takers typically only have time to get the information they need before they hang up the phone. This interaction, however, is a perfect opportunity for your agency to provide relevant information directly to the reporting party. By giving them basic information about their call, you reduce the likelihood that they are going to call back to ask for more information. You're improving the experience they have with you, and you're strengthening the foundation of your partnership with that caller..
